IN OTHER WORDS

Knopf. 1 Cloth(s), 2016. hard. Book Condition: New. (First Edition, Tipped-in Autograph Page) The Pulitzer Prize and PEN/Hemingway Awardwinning author of Interpreter of Maladies, The Namesake, Unaccustomed Earth, and The Lowland, Jhumpa Lahiri here makes a brilliant nonfiction debut with an inquiry into the nature of language itself, through her own passionate acquisition of Italian. The book is at heart a love story including a long and sometimes difficult courtship as the language first captivated and confused Lahiri during a trip to Florence after college. Although she studied Italian for many years afterward, true mastery eluded her. Finally, Lahiri moved to Rome with her family, for "a trial by fire, a sort of baptism" into a new language and world. There, she began to read, and to write initially in her journals solely in Italian. Written entirely in Italian and presented in parallel with an English translation by Ann Goldstein In Other Words investigates the process of learning to express oneself in another language, and describes the journey of a writer seeking a new voice. We are pleased to offer this unique exploration in a first edition with a tipped-in page signed by Lahiri. "Unlike Samuel Beckett and Vladimir Nabokov, who also wrote in adopted languages, Lahiri doesn't leap directly into fiction. Though the book contains a short story, her first order of business is to tell her own story. She writes exquisitely about her experiences with language. Her unexpected metamorphosis provides a captivating and insightful lesson in the power of language to transform." Publishers Weekly (Book of the Week) "For Lahiri, Italian was her third language her mother spoke Bengali and she relates the reasons she felt drawn to Italian, her many difficulties learning it, and her move to Rome to write. Although there are paragraphs about vocabulary, grammar, and pronunciation, Lahiri is more interested in the effects of...
