The approach to a stable grasp is examined carefully for the 2D case of a triangle being grasped by 3 fingers with no effects of friction or mass. The motion of the triangle in contact with two fixed fingers and one moving finger is determined, and a large class of motions is found to result in an equilibrium grasp. The results easily generalize to planar polygons, are expected to extend to real fingers grasping plate-like polygonal objects in the presence of mass and friction. Optimum grasping points for poorly known objects are given as those with the best toleration of error. 1. Introduction The problem of grasp planning is often approached with tacit assumptions that the object to be grasped is perfectly known, and that the end-effector or hand can be positioned with perfect control of force and location of every element in contact with the object.
